The Coalitionists Have Begun Business All Along the Line,

The Tobacco Crop-The Recent Rains-Duclists Arrested-General Notes.

Special Letter. Lynchburg, Va., Aug. 21,-The campaign was opened yesterday on the stump by the coalitionists all along the line, from the county of Essex on the Potomac and Southampton in the east, to Carroll and Smythe in the extreme southwest. As many as thirtytwo speeches were made in the state, and some of them by the leading champions of the coalition party, including Hon, John S. Wise, Hon, J. Brown Allen, Attorney General Blair, and R. Page Morriss, esq. Only one or two of them all were met by democratic opponents, Blair spoke in Smythe, Allen in Roanoke, and Morriss in Carroll to very large and enthusiastic au-Carroll to very large and enthusiastic au-diences. The democrats will not formally open their campaign until the first of Septem-ber, when things will become more lively. The tariff is the only leading national ques-tion discussed in the campaign, the coalition-ists advecating a high protectionist feature in their exact while the democrats are not entheir creed, while the democrats are not en-tirely united in their views upon the subject, there being meny free traders, or low tariff, as well as high tariff men on that side.

under the same escort back to Pittsylvania Court House for trial. They were indicted yesterday by the grand jury and the trial will commence to-day, and from all accounts will result in their speedy conviction of murder in the first degree. The impression now is that law and justice will be permitted to take their legitimate course without any further threats of violence.

Judge R. W. Hughes passed through this city yesterday, and gave it as his opinion that the coalition party is as strong in the southwest now as it ever has been, and that they will at least hold their own in that section at the coming election.

The rains at the close of last week were general over the state, and have had the finest effect up n the growing crops and the spirits of the people. Yesterday and to-day the to-bacco sales in this city have been almost unprecedentedly large, and prices are still up to a very high figure. The crop of one planter, Mr. Ward, of Campbell county, amounted to 1.69 0 pounds and sold at Pace's warehouse at prices ranging from $8.20 to $21,50 per hundred. This was much the largest sale of one man's crop that has been made here for many years, but other and smaller crops sold to-day as high as $62.10. Several colored societies of this city went-on a pleasure excursion to Richmond last evening. They were escorted to the depot by the Virginia Guards and their friends, a brass band heading the procession.

The amusement season will be opened at the opera house te-morrow night by Barlow. Wilson & Co's mammoth aggregation of min-strel celebrities, and the prospect appears fine for the whole season.

Another excursion train for Washington city leaves this city to-night over the Virginia Midlaud, to reach Washington to-morrow morning at 7:30 c'clock, at $3 the round trip. These excursions are becoming very frequent and are of great profit to the roads and pleasure and convenience to the neovale.

stands at 91.

A new democratic campaign paper is to be started in this city in a few days, under the auspices of the state executive committee. It is to be edited, it is understood by Mr. Fage McCarthy, of Washington city, and Judge George W. Ward, of Abingdon, a right-hand friend of the Hon. Abe Fulkerson. Mr. McCarthy is the spicy Washington correspondent of the Richmond State and some other Virginia journals.

An anticipated duel between Mr. J. W. Patten and E. E. Hartsook, subprofessor at the Virginia military institute, Lexington, was prevented here on Saturday last by the arrest of both parties by our city police on a warrant sworn out by third parties. They were bound over in the sum of $1,000 to keep the peace, which they are expected to do.

The painful news has just reached his daughter in this city that one of our most distinguished citizens, the Hon Thomas S. Bocock, was stricken down with paralysis yesterday at his residence near Appointation Court House. Mr. Bocock was for sixteen years a member of congress from this district, and speaker of the confederate congress in 1862-4. It was expected that he would be nominated for the state senate by the democrats at the approaching convention on Sept. 3. He is 72 years of age, and the son-in-law of Hon. Charles James Faulkner, of West Virginia.

Local Mail Messenger Service.

The postmaster general yesterday invited scaled proposals for carrying the mails and one mail messenger between the city postoffice, on Louisiana avenue, and the money order building, at the northwest corner of Eighth and E streets, six trips each way daily and such occasional additional trips as may be necessary, which are to be performed with-out additional compensation, upon a schedule to be prescribed by the postmaster at Washington, from Sept. 10, 1883, until Sept. 9, 1884. A contract with sureties is required to be executed, and persons bidding must be honest and capable, and not less than 21 years old. No more will be allowed than a fair and reasonable compensation for the service, to be determined by the department.

I'roposals may be made in the form of a letter, and must be filed in the office of the second assistant postmaster general; and in all cases the rate per annum should be stated.

About the Postal Guide. Mr. Houghton, of the Boston firm of Houghton, Mifflin & Co., publishers of the United States postal guide, called at the Postoffice department yesterday to consult the postmaster general in reference to a libel suit brought against the firm by the Sheffield Cutlery company for publishing in the guide an official order by the postmaster general, declaring that concern to be fraudulent. The postmaster general being absent from the city, Mr. Houghton decided to await his re-

Mr. Houghton also desires to consult with the postmaster general concerning the postal guide, which has been considerably reduced in volume through recent orders of the department.

The Corcoran Rifles.

A well attended meeting of the Corcoran Rifles, the new East Washington military company, was held at their armory last night, First Lieut, J. W. Searle presiding. It was decided to give a series of hops during the ap-proaching season for the benefit of the uniform fund. The names of several active members were proposed and accepted, and Mr. J. W. Robertson, the printer, was elected an honorary member.

Bicycling and Wrestling.

Much interest is being manifested in the bicycle race and collar and elbow wrestling match which will take place to-morrow afternoon at the Athletic park. The contestants in the bicycle race will be John L. Prince, champion of America; H. W. Higham, Eng-land's long distance champion; C. J. Young, the long distance rider, of Boston; Prof. Fred. L. Rollinson, ex-champion, and Thos. Harrison, of this city. There will be three peceptibly away is movey prizes, which will cause a struggle for that never failing second and third places. SAVED FROM DROWNING.

Mr. W. W. Davis Rescues a Child at Occoquan, and Chartle Kalbrus Saves Twe Men at Cape May.

An exhibition of heroism, which sustains one's faith in humanity for its unselfish and modest gallantry, occurred at Occoquan yesterday. A number of people went down modest gallantry, occurred at Occoquan yesterday. A number of people went down on the Mary Washington to that place. Mr. W. W. Davis, of the War department, with his wife, and Mr. J. T. Clements were walking on the lock above the old mill, when Mrs. Davis proposed to go down the bank to gather ferns. She had hardly stated when Maude Sterling, the twelve-year-old daughter of Mr. Henry H. Sterling, of the paymaster general's office, fell from a rock on which she was seated into a pool at its base, where the water is twelve to fourteen feet deep. Mr. Davis instantly sprang to the rescue, leaped down the slippery and precipitous rocks and plunged into the basin. Mr. James A. Savoy, the well known barber at 337 Pennsylvania avenue, also started to the rescue. The little girl went down twice, when Mr. Davis caught her, and brought her to the edge of the rock, which was slippery with moss. Here Mr. Savoy, who had just reached the edge of the pool, caught her, and helped them both out. The child was insensible when taken out of the water, but was soon resuscitated. Mr. Davis was instantly surrounded by the entire party, each one proffering congratulations on his successful heroism. He, however, modestly repelled the attentions of the party, saying it was only what any man would have done. "Why," said he, "Savoy was just behind me, and if I had been a second later he would have jumped in and brought her out."

Mr. Davis and Mr. Savoy both deserve the brought her out."

A VICTIM OF YELLOW FEVER.

Death of Dr. A. M. Owen, of the Navy, a Pensacola Yesterday.

Dr. A. M. Owen, United States surgeon died yesterday at 1 p. m. of yellow fever, at Pensacola navy yard. His little son had been attacked by the fever on Monday, and fears are entertained that his case is fatal.

Dr. Owen was made assistant surgeon May 20, 1869. His record has been one of continuous service, he being everywhere regarded as an industrions, hard working, and zealous officer. He was on June 5, 1869, ordered to duty at Mare Island, Cal.; in April, 1870, reported as heaved the Osciones despite of the duty at Mare Island, Cal.; in April, 1870, re-ported on board the Ossipee, flagship of the North Pacific squadron; June 6, 1871, was transferred to sloop St. Ma-rys, and cruised among the South Sea islands and in Australian waters. In August, 1873, was ordered to marine rendez-vous at Philadelphia, and in October of same year to the Philadelphia navy yard, and in November to recruiting duty at Detroit; Jan. 8, 1874, was assigned to duty at Philadelphia, and March 8, 1874, promoted passed assistant surgeon; Dec. 11, 1874, was ordered to frigate surgeon; Dec. II, 1874, was ordered to frigate Brooklyn, of the south Atlantic station. The yellow fever occurred on this frigate, and Dr. Owen was indefatigable in combatting it. Luckily, he cacaped it himself. July 4, 1876, he was ordered to receiving ship Worcester at Norfolk, and March 2, 1877, was transferred to frigate Franklin. June 5, 1877, he was sent to marine headquarters at Washington, and thence to Pensacola. He was in charge of the navy to Pensacola. He was in charge of the navy yard at that place last summer when the yellow fever devastated the town, and kept it out of the navy yard.

Dr. Owen was beloved by all who knew him. His skill as a physician was everywhere recognized and his efficiency appreciated. He married aniece of Capt. Queen, of the United States navy. He leaves a widow and three

A CENTENNIAL ANNIVERSARY.

Tournament at Forest Glen in Celebration of the Establishment of St. John's Chapel One Hundred Years Ago.

Yesterday was a gala day at Forest Glen, Montgomery county, Md., nine miles from this city. The occasion was the centennial anniversary of the establishment of St. anniversary of the establishment of St.
John's chapel at that place. The scene of the celebration is richly historic. It was originally the property of Archbishop Carroll, by whom the mission was founded, Aug. 22, 1783. The property was afterwards transferred to his brother, Daniel Carroll, who was a member of the convention which framed the constitution; also, a member of the first congress, and one of the original three commissioners of the city of Washington. The present place of worship is a frame building, twenty by forty feet, with a caton. The present place of worship is a traine building, twenty by forty feet, with a capacity for about two hundred persons. It is the gift of Anne Carroll to the parish, and is familiarly known as the Carroll chapel.

The principal feature of the celebration yesterday was a tournament, which was witnessed by every 200 neonle and participated in yesterday was a tournament, which was witnessed by over 2,000 poople and participated in by the following gayly caparisoned sir knights Knight of Gilpin, Jesse Heiskell; Knight of King John, Harry Swart; Black Knight, Robert Swart; Knight of Waterloo, William Fiddler; Knight of Colesville, Arthur Sullivan; Spanish Knight, T. H. Freeman; Knight of Will-if-I-Can, Frank Kraft; Earl of Warwick, William Waters; Russian Knight, Frank Mulligan; Knight of Beppe, Bowie Clark; Knight of Joan of Arc, M. C. Clark, and Greek Knight, T. P. Clark. The judges were E. C. Stubbs, D. Mulligan, and M. J. Brown; heralds, George McSweeney, L. B. Graves, and L. P. Marlow. The tilting was quite exciting, and after the usual number of tilts the judges amounced that Mr. Robert Swart, the Black Knight, had won the first prize, with Arthur Sullihad won the first prize, with Arthur Sollivan, Knight of Colesville, second, and William Waters, Earl of Warwick, third.

The interesting ceremony of crowning the queen of love and beauty, Miss Lyda Gleason, a handsome young lady, was then performed in the chapel by Mr. Swart, and the crowning of Miss Cissel, first maid of honor, by Mr. Arthur Sullivan, and the second maid of honor, Miss V. Lambert, of the Washington bar. The Beethoven quartette rendered several excellent selections, as did Messrs. Mandsley and Maguire. The entertainment concluded with a magnificent display of fireworks and dancing in a pavilion which had been crected

The committee having charge of the matter was composed of Messrs. Riley, Brown, Stubbs, Maguire, Forest, and Miller. Among those present were: Rev. Father Rabbi, paster of the chapel; Messrs. John Talbert, James Dorsey, O. S. P. Fowler, of Montgomery county; James Fitzmorris, of Washington; the Misses McDermott, Mr. Repetti, of the firm of Weller & Repetti, Miss Anderson, Miss Corrigan, Mrs. McDermott, Rev. Its unparalcause: the entire juillment of its promises.

The proprietors have often been surprised at the receipt of orders from remote countries, where they had never made an effort for its introduction.

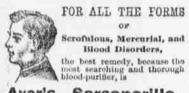

The use for a short time of HALL'S HAIR RENEWER, wonderfully improves the personal appearance. It cleanses the scalp from all impurities, cures all humors, fever, and dryness, and thus prevents baldness. . It stimulates the weakened glands, and enables them to push forward a new and vigorous growth. The effects of this article are not transient, like those of alcoholic preparations, but remain a long time, which makes its use a matter of economy.

SPEER'S

Port Grape Wine

Used in the Principal Churches for Communion Purposes.

Excellent for Ladies and Weakly Persons and the Aged.

Speer's Port Grape Wine T. W. SMITH, General Passenger Agent. C. W. SMITH, General Manager. THE VIRGINIA MIDLAND RAILWAY. FOUR YEARS OLD.

This CELEBRATED WINE is the pure juice the dead ripe Oporto Grape, raised in Speer's Vin yards. Its invaluable

TONIC AND STRENGTHENING PROPERTIES are unsurpassed by any other wine. Being produced under Mr. Speer's own personal supervision, its purity and sentiments are guaranteed by the principal hospitals and boards of health who have examined them. The youngest child may partake of its generous qualities, and the weakest in walld use it to advantage. It is particularly beneficial to the aged and debilitated, and suited to the various aliments that affect the weaker set, It is in every respect a WINE TO BE RELIED ON.

Speer's Burgundy.

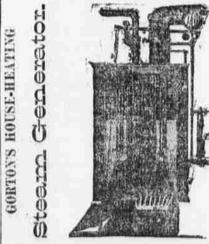

Is a dark, rich, medium dry wine, used by the wealthy classes as a table or dinner wine, and by phy-sicians in cases where a dry wine instead of a sweet port is desired.

Speer's Socialite Claret Is held in high estimation for its richness as a dry table wine.

Speer's P. J. Sherry

Is a wine of superior character, and partakes of the rich qualities of the grape from which it is made. Speer's P. J. Brandy

Is a pure distillation of the grape, and stands unrivaled in this country for medicinal purposes. It has a peculiar flavor, similar to that of the grapes from which it is distilled. See that the signature of ALFRED SPEER, Pas-sale, N. J., is over the cork of each bottle. Sold by Druggists Everywhere
